Edina, Minnesota 55435

Presented by the

MINNESOTA HEART FAILURE CONSORTIUM

(a special project of the Minneapolis Medical Research Foundation)

This activity is jointly sponsored by Minnesota Medical Association and the Minnesota Heart Failure Consortium.

About the Minnesota Heart Failure Consortium

The Minnesota Heart Failure Consortium (MHFC) is dedicated to furthering research and education concerning the problem of heart failure. MHFC facilitates cooperative educational and investigative efforts among individual medical groups and institutions involved with the care of patients with chronic heart failure. Our members are healthcare professionals practicing at the following institutions: Minneapolis Heart Institute, Minneapolis VA Medical Center, Hennepin County Medical Center, St. Paul Heart Clinic, Mayo Clinic, Minnesota Heart Clinic, Metropolitan Heart and Vascular Institute, Regions Medical Center, University of Minnesota, North Memorial Heart and Vascular Institute, Park Nicollet Medical Center, St. Mary's Duluth Health Clinic System, and Central Minnesota Heart Center. MHFC is a special program of the Minneapolis Medical Research Foundation (MMRF).

For information on MHFC membership and additional programs, contact Shari Mackedanz, Operations Manager, Minnesota Heart Failure Consortium, phone: 612-347-5195, email: Shari.Mackedanz@hmed.org

PURPOSE

This course is designed to provide a state-of-the-art update on selected aspects of current pharmacological, surgical and complementary treatment for patients with Heart Failure.

AUDIENCE

This conference is planned for healthcare professionals including physicians, nurses, nurse practitioners, physician assistants, and pharmacists who manage the care of the heart failure patient.

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES

Following this conference, participants should be able to:

- 1) Recognize the issues surrounding diuretic dosing in acute heart failure and relate how the results of the Dose trial may influence practice.
- 2) Review the current status of stem cell infusion/transfection in the treatment of heart failure and what the near future may hold.
- 3) Identify the roles of several therapies and diagnostic modalities utilized in managing heart failure.
- 4) Illustrate both the medical and economic importance of early readmissions and recognize the barriers to properly aligned incentives and propose strategies for change.

DESIGNATION FOR PHYSICIANS

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Essential Areas and Polices of the Minnesota Medical Association (MMA) through the joint sponsorship of the Minnesota Heart Failure Consortium and is accredited by the MMA to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Minnesota Medical Association designates this educational activity for a maximum of 6.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Nursing

This activity is designed to meet the Minnesota Board of Nursing's continuing education requirements. Nurses are responsible for determining whether this activity meets the requirements for continuing education credit.

Other Credit

Other health care providers may use course materials to submit to their professional organizations/boards for individual credit.

DISCLOSURE POLICY

It is the policy of Minnesota Medical Association (MMA), to ensure balance, independence, objectivity and scientific rigor in all its sponsored educational activities. All participating faculty, course directors, and planning committee members are required to disclose any financial relationships related to the subject matter of this activity. Disclosure information is reviewed in advance in order to manage and resolve any possible conflicts of interest. Specific disclosure information for each course faculty will be shared with audience prior to the faculty's presentation.
